The Virginia Governor's School for Agriculture is seeking qualified applicants for teaching assistant positions (also known as Governor's School Program Leader, or GSL) for the summer 2022 program. Days of work will be June 22 to July 26, 2022.

If interested in this unique opportunity, please complete the employment application, submit a resume, and a cover letter stating your interests and qualifications for the position no later than February 28, 2022. Submit all required documents to the Virginia's Governor's School for Agriculture via email at agschool@vt.edu.

Overview of GSL Responsibilities

The GSL is the heart of the Governor's School for Agriculture (GSA). The GSL is the person who interacts on a continuing and personal basis with small numbers of GSA students, providing instruction, mentorship, and assistance to the Governor's School students. The GSL plays a critical role in ensuring the Student Code of Conduct is adhered to at all times, and ensuring the personal safety of all Governor's School for Agriculture students. Other roles include providing administrative and other support as directed by the Director or On-site Director. GSL's will be selected for their academic ability, enthusiasm, potential as instructional assistants, and leadership. are still planning exact details.

Virginia Governor's School for Agriculture Leaders Position Description

The Virginia Governor's School for Agriculture seeks Governor's School Leaders (GSLs) to help support 100 talented and gifted youth from across the Commonwealth grow in their understanding of agriculture, have a college preparation experience, and to build a safe and fun environment for all students.

What does a GSL do?

Note: Due to COVID-19, GSL responsibilities are still being determined as we heed public health and Virginia Tech recommendations. The description below is still accurate, but may change due to restrictions.

The GSL position is one of many hats. GSLs work days are long, running from at minimum breakfast till the after bed-check staff debrief at 11pm (if able to bring students to campus). Days are action packed with GSLs having varied responsibilities both in-person and online from: ensuring the whereabouts and safety of 100 high-school students, supporting high-school students' efforts to conduct academic literature reviews which result in a paper, poster, 3-D print, and brochure; facilitate social activities that range from athletic activities, scavenger hunts, panel discussions, cookouts, field trips, farm visits, etc. GSLs are responsible for supporting the emotional well-being of students who are away from home, living in communal spaces, and are away from home for the first time. GSLs share the role of friend, parent, teacher, and disciplinarian. This role is as challenging as it is fun and rewarding.

GSLs need to be willing and able to:

- Stay in the residence halls when students are on campus.
- Facilitate learning activities and support in virtual and in-person modalities.
- Have a valid driver's license and be willing and able to drive a 12-passenger van.
- Be comfortable being in a leadership role for high-school aged youth.
- Support youth learning in formal classroom and non-formal social settings.

Required Skills & Basic Qualifications:

- GSLs do not need to have formal education in agriculture or education, however, they do need to have completed at least one year of college, and turned 18 years of age (21 years of age or older is preferred).
- GSL's do not have to be current students, however, professionals in related fields are preferred.
- GSLs must be able to respond to direction by supervisor and peers alike in a very dynamic environment.
- GSLs are required to regularly demonstrate high-levels of critical thinking and problem-solving skills in their work with youth, and in orchestrating programmatic logistics.
- GSLs need to have strong academic writing and critical analysis skills.
- GSLs need to have stamina and a commitment to excellence in order to be successful.
- GSLs need to be able to use Zoom and Google Drive with a willingness to learn and use other technology to implement a successful program.
- GSLs must pass required background checks for employment.

Preferred Qualifications and Experience:

- Experience with teenagers in a non-formal residential or day camp setting, or previous teaching experience is strongly preferred.
- Formal training in technical writing is strongly preferred.
- Hands-on experience with, and a passion for, the agriculture industry is preferred.
- A passion for youth development in the context of agriculture is preferred.

Benefits

The GSL base pay is $2,100, with free room and meals on the VT campus on the days students are allowed on campus. Increases to the base pay will be provided incrementally in steps of $160 to those with previous experience as a GSL, and to those who have a bachelor's degree. The GSL employment contract runs June 22 – July 26. GSLs receive two days off per week, starting the second week of the program.
